

Ricky Joseph Coleman was born May 8, in Heber, Utah, to Lowell G. & Betty J. Coleman, both natives of Heber. Rick was the middle child of 4 boys and 1 girl. At the age of 9, Rick's mother died. He was raised by his father with the help of aunts, uncles, and grandparents. Rick was a graduate of Wasatch High School where he participated in band and was a seminary graduate. He then attended the Utah Technical College in Provo, where he graduated in Building Construction. While attending college he married Jayne McDonald, and four years later they were married in the Salt Lake Temple. Rick worked part time at Safeway while going to college and when the construction business slowed down he continued with Safeway full time. His education came in handy, since the home they are now living in was built by him and his father-in-law.

Rick loves to hunt and fish and has recently picked up the hobby of stamp collecting.

Jayne McDonald was born March 22, to Wayne and Mary Jane McDonald, both natives of Heber. She is the second of 5 children of which there were 4 girls and 1 boy. She was a graduate of Wasatch High School, where she participated in Drill Team, Cheerleading, Track, and numerous other sports. During that time she received the 7-year medallion in the Young Women's Program in her ward. She attended Weber State College for a year and then went one semester to B.Y.U. She then married her high school sweetheart and became a full time wife. She is active with her church job, family, P.T.A. and enjoys most sports.

James Ricky (J.R.) was born June 2, and is a good influence on his younger sister and brother. He enjoys playing soccer and Little League. He also enjoys camping and fishing.

Jeanette is an only girl, born Jan 31. She likes dancing, swimming, and gymnastics.

William Heath was born Oct. 24, and is a very happy child. He likes to play outside and ride his tricycle.

LELIA MCDONALD COLEMAN

125 E. 500 No.

654-1339

Lelia McDonald Coleman was born Oct. 2, to Issac and Ida Adel Clift McDonald. She is the oldest of ten children. Her father was a sheepman and as soon as school was out every year they would head for the forest for the summer.

Lelia studied nursing at St. Marks Hospital. After finishing her training she came back to Heber to work. Since there was no hospital in Heber at that time, she went around the valley with the doctors to help perform surgery in their homes.

She married George W. Coleman when she was 22 years old. George was also a sheepman. They had only one child that lived just 2 days.

She raised her sister's son, Doug, from the time he was nine months old. Doug went to the Navy after high school. After that he was made manager for Union Oil. He now lives in Coos Bay, Oregon where he is a C.P.A. in his own business. He was a Bishop for 5 years and has 4 children.

Lelia has served as work director in Relief Society, and inservice leader, a visiting teacher, primary worker, and in the M.I.A. She did genealogy and temple work & visited all the temples in the U.S.A. that were built at that time.

Her hobbies are painting and handwork of all kinds; sewing, quilting, crochet, embroidery, rug making, needlepoint, and ceramics. She has designed most of the things she has made. She and George had 53 years together and he shared many of her handwork hobbies with her.

LELIA Oct. 2
